The Borough of Oradell was notified this afternoon by the Bergen County Department of Health that an Oradell resident received a presumptive positive test result for COVID-19. This person was tested at an area hospital and is now self-isolating at home.

The Bergen County Department of Health is now in the process of identifying all of those who were in close contact with this individual. The Department of Health will then be contacting all who were in close contact so they can reach out to their healthcare provider and take necessary precautions.

The borough will continue to update residents as new information comes in -- please visit the CDC and NJ Department of Health for more information.
